May 10, 2010, George worked with Brett but at different companies of the Board and later its vice chair. Both of those formal titles do not do justice to his engagement and effort. Brett always did his homework, he made substantial sacrifices to participate, and his contributions were always top-notch. Outside of the formal structure of the Board, he provided invaluable assistance to the University's missions of teaching, outreach and knowledge creation. He's very knowledgeable across a variety of business topics, quick to grasp the essential elements of a situation, and a pleasure to work with.
